Negativity bias leads us to focus on negative experiences, which can skew our perception of reality & affect wellbeing. To counteract this, practice mindfulness, focus on positive experiences & consciously cultivate gratitude to shift attention. Regularly engaging in these steps can enhance positivity & improve overall mental health.

Negativity bias leads us to focus on negative experiences, which can skew our perception of reality & affect wellbeing. To counteract this, practice mindfulness, focus on positive experiences & consciously cultivate gratitude to shift attention. Regularly engaging in these steps can enhance positivity & improve overall mental health.

Negativity bias leads us to focus on negative experiences, which can skew our perception of reality & affect wellbeing. To counteract this, practice mindfulness, focus on positive experiences & consciously cultivate gratitude to shift attention. Regularly engaging in these steps can enhance positivity & improve overall mental health.

yesterday?

Negativity bias leads us to focus on negative experiences, which can skew our perception of reality & affect wellbeing. To counteract this, practice mindfulness, focus on positive experiences & consciously cultivate gratitude to shift attention. Regularly engaging in these steps can enhance positivity & improve overall mental health.

What I learnt yesterday?

Current Emotions?

Future vision

eg Nice house in lots of trees - Building my future, and my adhd non-verbal imagination one line at a time.

How to be optimistic today?

Men fall in love with their eyes and women fall in love with their ears

I am fierce

What I'm grateful for:

generally?

who?

about myself?

yesterday?

Negativity bias leads us to focus on negative experiences, which can skew our perception of reality & affect wellbeing. To counteract this, practice mindfulness, focus on positive experiences & consciously cultivate gratitude to shift attention. Regularly engaging in these steps can enhance positivity & improve overall mental health.

What I learnt yesterday?

Current Emotions?

Future vision

eg Nice house in lots of trees - Building my future, and my adhd non-verbal imagination one line at a time.

What tasks will bring me the most energy and joy?

There is no try

I can be proud of something I have done / I am proud of things that I have done

Negativity bias leads us to focus on negative experiences, which can skew our perception of reality & affect wellbeing. To counteract this, practice mindfulness, focus on positive experiences & consciously cultivate gratitude to shift attention. Negativity bias leads us to focus on negative experiences, which can skew our perception of reality & affect wellbeing. To counteract this, practice mindfulness, focus on positive experiences & consciously cultivate gratitude to shift attention. Regularly engaging in these steps can enhance positivity & improve overall mental health.
